

Wageningen University & Research | Elise van Tilborg

Biography

Elise van Tilborg is entrepreneur and lecturer GIS & Remote Sensing at Wageningen University. Before, she worked at the Netherlands Space Office (NSO, Dutch space agency) on societal issues around the use of satellite data. With her company, IMARA.earth, she quantifies and visualises impact in the field of sustainability.

But where government, business, knowledge institutions and society come together (Dutch Diamonds Approach) critical questions can be asked. Terms as privacy, ownership, errors, big brother and ethics are part of the on-going discussion.

Space is the limit! Right? Or is that a bit too far?
